

Workshop on SPANISH GOLDEN AGE DANCE by ANA YEPES

in Vienna, Austria

Saturday 18th April 2020/
Sunday 19th April 2020:

9,30am–12,00pm/1,30pm–3,00pm -
for advanced additionally 3,15pm–5,15pm
(4 hours + 2 hours) a day

Program:

- Introduction of some basic Spanish Golden Age dance steps
- Practice of various choreographic variations of Jácara and Spanish Gallarda
- practice and use of castanets for our variations

This workshop presents the Spanish baroque dance style. We will learn the basic steps and some variations of Jácara and of the Spanish Gallarda. The Jácara is the sister of the Zarabanda and is the origin of some Flamenco dances like Alegrías. The Spanish Gallarda is very interesting because it is really in between the Renaissance one and the French Baroque one, and allows us to understand its evolution.

It is addressed to students of different levels. For those who already have some experience, the workshop is a continuation of the practice and an opportunity to get deeper into the style. Those who never tried this style are also welcome.

Students who play castanets or who would like to learn are invited to bring their own.

Ana Yepes teaches Spanish baroque dance according to the Spanish treatises by Esquivel Navarro, Discursos sobre el Arte del Danzado, Sevilla 1642, by Juan Antonio Jaque, El libro de danzar, XVII century, Domingo Gonzalez, Escuela por lo bajo (XVIIème), Novelli, Choregraphie, 1708, and by Pablo Minguet, Explicación del danzar a la española, Madrid, 1737. Her work on technique and interpretation, as well as the warm-up she proposes are also essential elements of her teaching.
